

New Library Building May Begin in 1954

"If we realize the $200,000 saving that we are planning on this year, then we should be able to start the Library building in 1954," Charles Hoff, vice-president in charge of finances, made this statement Friday. "We are counting on $200,000 per year from the half mill levy, which will give a terrific boost to the reserve fund already accumulated by the University for the Library building."

The University has a reserve fund of $253,092.63 for the proposed Library and a total of $66,723.91 for the Student Union Building. The Student Union Building may be started at the same time as the Library since bonds can be floated for a Union and not for a Library.

The Library committee has visited the library buildings of many colleges. Among these are the William Allen White Memorial at Emporia State Teachers College; North Dakota A and M, St. Cloud Teachers College in Minnesota; Bradley University at Peoria, Ill., and University of Iowa at Iowa City.

The Committee has already drawn up and changed four different sets of plans for the library. On Jan. 31, Architect John Latenser, Miss Ellen Lord, librarian, Dr. Robert Harper, committee chairman, and Mr. Hoff will attend the American Library Association meeting in Chicago.

Plans for the new building are now being studied by a committee of professional library critics. The critics will discuss and give the Omaha University officials suggestions for improving their present plans at this meeting.

Financial Report Ends in Surplus

The University of Omaha proved to the Board of Regents that it can stretch the operating dollar. After all expenditures for 1951-52 were deducted from the budget allowances, the university had a surplus of $187,034.92. This was transferred to the Building fund.

The University had a total income of $1,122,377.74 during the fiscal year Sept. 1, 1951, to Aug. 31, 1952, according to President Milo Bail. Of the total income, University fees, which include student tuition, amounted to $530,897.85 or 47.3 per cent of the total. Tax collections, upon which the University relies for a major share of its operating expense, totaled 51.3 per cent or $576,092.30.

Employees salaries was the largest expenditure for this fiscal year. Salaries amounted to 59.7 per cent or $670,037.02.

Four Debate Teams Prepare for Meet

If the weatherman cooperates the debate squad will travel to Fremont, Neb., for a meet at Midland College next Friday and Saturday, Jan. 30 and 31.

The Midland meet will include six rounds of debate and discussion sessions. The four teams of Jean Bednar-Sharon Erdkamp, Marie Jipp-Arlyss Welch, Ken Bauer-Ed Brailey and Duane Post-Ted Romberg have been selected to compete in the tourney.

Midland won the University of Omaha Invitational Debate Tournament on Nov. 7 and 8. The debaters will also be looking forward to March 13 and 14, when OU will be the host school for the state championship competition.

Due to blizzard conditions last Thursday, the debate trip to the Kansas State Teachers College Debate Tourney scheduled for last Friday and Saturday at Pittsburg, Kans., was cancelled.

Beginning with the second semester, three practice sessions will be held weekly for all students interested in inter-collegiate contests.

All Eligible
According to J. D. Tyson, debate coach, "any student interested in discussing Communism, speaking extemporaneously on current national and international affairs, delivering an oration, or debating a question of Fair Employment laws, is invited to join the practice group."

The one regularly scheduled session will be held on Tuesday evenings from 5 to 7 p. m. in the Faculty Clubroom for the duration of the debate season, which officially

Judges Name Crouch, Longville for "Anything Goes" Singing Roles

Dewey Crouch and Ruth Longville will take two of the leading roles in the musical comedy, "Anything Goes." Crouch will play the part of Billy Crocker, who decides at the last minute to sail to England, and sets off a series of chases and intrigue. Miss Longville will enact the night club proprietress, Reno Sweeney.

Dr. Edwin Clark, adviser of the production, announced only these two parts Saturday. The remainder of the cast was announced late yesterday.

Seventy-five students tried out during the three night preliminary judgments in the auditorium. Assisting Dr. Clark were Dr. Robert Fiester, Richard Brewer, Syntha Judd, Irv Jones and Marilyn Sibert.

Said Dr. Clark, "We were very pleased with the large variety of student talent presented during the tryouts. The acts were of the type that we can weave successfully into the framework of 'Anything Goes.'"

The specialty acts included dancers, a marionette show, piano solos, and vocal solos, duets, trios and others.

Rehearsals for "Anything Goes" will begin as soon as the three advisers organize the rehearsal plan. The play is in two acts and was written by Cole Porter.

The action of the musical comedy centers around the eternal triangle, Billy Crocker, Miss Hope Harcourt and her fiancé, Sir Evelyn Oakleigh. As he begins his pursuit of Miss Harcourt, Billy makes his first mistake, plunging into underworld influence. He accepts a ticket for the boatride to England from Dr. Rev. Moon, a notorious criminal in disguise. Moon and Billy are then accomplices and are chased throughout the play.

Billy tries to court Hope with the help of Reno Sweeney. The night club proprietress keeps Sir Evelyn busy. The play ends on a happy note, as the mixup in tickets is corrected.

The musical comedy will be presented Feb. 20 and 21. This is the first time a professional musical comedy script has been used for a student talent show.

Last year's show, "Audrey," was written by Omaha University students, Berkley Forsythe and Rolfie Klopffleisch. The success of this musical play set a new trend for student talent shows at the University.

Two Infectious Diseases Attack Faculty, Students

Two infectious diseases have taken their toll among students and faculty members during the last few weeks. Miss Beldora Tacke, school nurse, said that the diseases, infectious hepatitis and infectious mononucleosis have the same effect as flu in their early stages.

Hepatitis is an inflammation of the liver. "It is not a fatal disease, but victims are sometimes alarmed at the jaundiced color of their skin," said Miss Tacke. This occurs about a week after they become ill and is the first sign that they do not have a common case of flu. A third feeling coupled with a low fever is another sign.

"Students anxious to return to school will not be happy to hear that it takes from four to six weeks in bed on a high protein low fat diet with plenty of Vitamin B to be up and around again," added Miss Tacke.

Mononucleosis, or glandular fever, is a blood disease. A symptom common to both illnesses is lethargy or tired feeling. The element of time is common to both also. In the first stages of mononucleosis persons may have a sore throat and high fever.

Convo Will Honor Offutt Personnel

Friday will be Offutt Air Force Day. More than 80 airmen and officers from the base who have studied with the University of Omaha will be honored at a Convocation Friday at 8 p. m. in the University auditorium.

Col. J. M. Barber, Chief of the Air Force Information and Education Branch, Personnel Service Division, Washington, D. C., will be featured speaker. The University Band and the Air Force ROTC chorus will participate in the program.

The convocation will recognize airmen and officers who have successfully completed at least 15 semester hours of academic work in on-base or on-campus courses with the University College of Applied Arts of College of Adult Education.

President Milo Bail will award certificates. Col. A. J. Beck, commander of Offutt Air Base, Everett M. Hosman, dean of the College of Adult Education; W. Dean Vogel, president of the Board of Regents, and Dr. Donald Emery, chairman, will also speak during the program.

The program will be preceded by a dinner for Offutt personnel in the Faculty Clubroom. A reception will follow the program.

Choir Tryouts Today

Tryouts for three choral organizations will be held today from 3 to 5 p. m. in Room 382. Richard Brewer, director of vocal music, announced that the University choir, men's chorus and women's chorus will be enlarged to take care of the many students who are interested in the music organizations.

Clinic Will Draw 225 Journalists

Problems in newspaper management, writing and make-up will be discussed at the Fourth Annual High School Journalism Clinic, Thursday from 1:30 to 8:30 p. m. The clinic is co-sponsored by the Journalism department and the University Press Club.

Annual Staff Completes 22 Pages in Book

Twenty-two pages of the 1953 Tomahawk are completed and being printed. Editor Larry Boersma announced that all copy and pictures for the 232 page annual must be at the Denison Yearbook Company in Minneapolis, Minn., by Mar. 15.

"The first 50 pages are just about ready to be sent, but the remaining pages are still in the planning stage," said Boersma. "This year's annual will be different than any other Tomahawk ever put out by the University. The 1953 annual will have more pictures and less copy. New features in this year's book will be a student life page and other group snapshots."

Sports Editor Dick McKee has completed the spring sports section. One-half of the advertising has been contracted, according to Bob Benecke, business manager.

All senior pictures have been taken. Proofs should be turned into Boersma today. Any senior who wants to have a retake should contact the Tomahawk editor.

Any interested students should check Tyson's class schedule and indicate when they will be able to attend the sessions. Each student should attend one day session and the evening session.

Outstanding Omaha journalists and photographers who will answer questions about the opportunities in Journalism fields are Joe Baker, KMTV, promotion manager; Henrietta Kieser, vice-president of Bozell and Jacobs Advertising Agency; Austin H. Phelps, free lance writer; and Bill Quinlan, public relations manager for Northern Natural Gas. Members of the University Press Club will be discussion leaders for each of the groups. The panels and discussion leaders are "How to Make Advertising Pay," Bill Beindorff; "How to Make the News Story More Readable," Joyce Erdkamp; "Writing Attractive and Meaningful Headlines," Joanne Larkin; and "Improving Sports Reporting," Bob Peck.

Others are "The Problems of Page Makeup," Burt McMillan, and "Pictorial Journalism," Dan Langevin.

Total Registration Climbs to 1500

Over 1,500 university students have taken out registration blanks for next semester. This total was announced Friday afternoon by the Registrar.

Early registration ended Friday afternoon. Students who have not registered for second semester classes must do so Jan. 29 and 30. New students will also register at this time.

Noon, Jan. 31 is the deadline for paying tuition fees. A late fee of $3 will be charged for the first week of the second semester, increasing a dollar a week thereafter. Final examinations will begin Thursday morning. Second semester classes will begin at 8 a. m. Monday, Feb. 2.

Korean Vets Must Sign Payroll Certificate By Fifth Day of Each Month for Payment

Students attending Omaha U. on P. L. 550 stand to go hungry for 30 days unless they mend their ways. Two long-distance telephone calls from the Veterans Administration headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., has prompted the business office and registrar to penalize the offenders.

Korean veterans under this bill must sign their personal certificates required by the VA by the 5th of every month before they are eligible for their monthly checks. The vets enrolled at OU have been late signing these statements and have held up the paychecks for the state of Nebraska.

The certificates must be in the hands of the finance office at Lincoln on the 10th of the month. They must be signed at the University no later than the 5th day of every month or the delinquent veteran will not get his check.

The Registrar will no longer use the paging system, letters, postal cards or telephone calls to remind Korean veterans to sign their name on the certification blanks.

The certificates state that the boys have attended the classes faithfully for which they were registered and that they are doing satisfactory work. The certificates are then processed by the Registrar. The finance officer makes a further certification and sends the entire report to the Lincoln headquarters of the V. A. The Finance department of the V. A. at Lincoln makes up the master monthly subsistence payroll for all P. L. 550 G. I.'s in the state of Nebraska, and sends it to Kansas City where the government checks are written and mailed back to the vets.

Pint-sized Piccolo Player Joins Band

A tall center potted a long shot, and a mighty cheer went up from the crowd. Someone yelled "Hit it," and the reporter was left with an unfinished quote by a 12-year-old piccolo player who thinks tooting with the Omaha University band is more important than being interviewed.

The piccoloist is Paul Fester, an eighth grader at Tech Junior High. He is familiar to many followers of OU football and basketball teams, as he attends the games and plays with the band often.

Paul began his musical career in the first grade of Washington school when, in compliance of the times, he took up the tonette. By the time he reached the second grade, Paul was playing the flute.

'Paul . . . and his piccolo . . . play for the Indians.

Last April, when he was a sixth grader—it seems he's smart at things other than music, because he skipped the seventh grade—he was one of the three grade school pupils chosen to play with the Omaha Symphony Children's Concert.

When asked how his piccolo playing for the Indians came about, Paul explained that he used to come to games and he always wanted to play with the band. He spoke to Dr. Robert Fiester, received his approval and has been playing ever since. Dr. Fiester said that he never informs Paul of coming games. "He just keeps track himself and shows up whenever there's a game."

Paul is a member of the Tech High Senior band, and, in five or six years, Paul hopes to become a "regular" regular in the OU band.

And what do University band members think of the pint-sized piccolo player? Well, they think he plays "well, very well, for a kid his age."

OU Red Cross Club Serves Community

A new campus organization, the Red Cross College Activities club, is proving itself. Members are actively engaged in entertaining at the Omaha Vet's hospital, teaching polio patients to swim and working at the Regional Red Cross Blood Bank.

"The club is not a club in the usual sense of the word," explains over-all Chairman Chuck French, "Our group functions only to serve the community."

Members entertain patients of the Vet's neuropsychiatric ward once a month. The parties usually revolve around a central theme and consist of community singing, game playing and refreshments.

The parties are held within locked doors, and the entertainers must attend a short orientation class to be familiarized as "to how one should react under different situations." None of the patients are dangerous—the classes are only precautionary.

Once a week, eight to 15 club members help teach polio patients to swim at the Jewish Community Center. The swimming exercises are part of the patients' prescribed therapy. According to Jean Schmidt, chairman of the program, the instructors have a tremendous responsibility as the patient must have complete trust in his teacher and the therapy if the exercise is to prove beneficial.

Mary Richardson and Don Chase are co-chairmen of the Blood Bank program. Members work as clerks and phone previous donors to volunteer again.

Word To Wise; Beware of Caffeine Pills

Once more we come to that monument of memory . . . Exam Week.

We can repeat this bit of advice one time and one time only. When you're ready to burn the midnight oil, handle your "no-doze" (stay-awake caffeine pills) with care!

We cite the case of a University of Missouri student who tried to telescope a semester's work into a few nights of straight study. Each time his eyelids started to drop down he popped a few "no-doze" into his mouth.

He kept up this insomniac marathon for no less than 70 hours straight, taking larger amounts of the stimulating pills each time to keep him going. With all of the text's random information seething in his overworked brain, he staggered to his exam . . . without his "no-doze."

At the end of the test, his paper was as devoid of answers as it had been when it was first mimeographed. Without his pills this hapless student had fallen fast asleep through the entire testing period!

ARE YOU TOUGH ENOUGH FOR THIS JOB?

If you can make the grade, the U.S. Air Force will award you a commission, your wings and pay you over $5,000 a year!

CAN YOU "take it" 6 days a week? For 52 weeks? Can you meet the high standards required to be an Aviation Cadet? If you can—then here's a man-size opportunity! An opportunity to serve your country and build a personal career that will fit you for responsible positions both in military and commercial aviation.

It won't be easy! Training discipline for Aviation Cadets is rigid. You'll work hard, study hard, play hard—especially for the first few weeks. But when it's over, you'll be a pro—with a career ahead of you that will take you as far as you want to go. You graduate as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Air Force, with pay of $5,300.00 a year. And this is only the beginning—your opportunities for advancement are unlimited.

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE?

To qualify as an Aviation Cadet, you must have completed at least two years of college. This is a minimum requirement—it's best if you stay in school and graduate. In addition, you must be between 19 and 26½ years, unmarried, and in good physical condition.

YOU CAN CHOOSE BETWEEN PILOT OR AIRCRAFT OBSERVER

If you choose to be an Aircraft Observer, your training will be in Navigation, Bombardment, Radar Operation or Aircraft Performance Engineering.

New Aviation Cadet Training Classes Begin Every Few Weeks!

HERE'S WHAT TO DO:

1. Take a transcript of your college credits and a copy of your birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station. Fill out the application they give you.
2. If application is accepted, the Air Force will arrange for you to take a physical examination.
3. Next, you will be given a written and manual aptitude test.
4. If you pass your physical and other tests, you will be scheduled for an Aviation Cadet Training Class. The Selective Service Act allows you a four-month deferment while waiting class assignment.

Where to get more details: Visit your nearest Air Force Base or Air Force Recruiting Officer; OR WRITE TO: AVIATION CADET HEADQUARTERS, U. S. AIR FORCE, WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

Indians Face Tough Schedule

Cagers Aim for Best Record Since War; Mackie Leads

By Lee Nelson

Attempting to establish the best Omaha U. postwar basketball record, the Indian hoopsters will face four tough hurdles before the second semester begins.

Three of the contests are at home while the return fray with Emporia State will be on the road. Highlight of the four-game period is the Creighton battle on the Creighton floor, Feb. 2.

Tomorrow night, the Red and Black tangle with South Dakota (Northern) State of Aberdeen in the last game before final exams.

Hit the Road

On Jan. 29, OU travels to Emporia (Kans.) State for a rematch after the Indians downed the Hornets 72-57 last Thursday at the Fieldhouse.

Washburn will invade the OU maples on Jan. 31, as the Omahans will be striving for revenge. The Ichabods crushed Omaha at Topeka, 70-57, on Dec. 12.

The South Dakotans will be led by Bill Zacher, six foot, one inch pivot man and captain of the Aberdeen school.

Other starters include Gene Schlekeway and Bill Jordan at forwards and "Mo" Mack and Lew Gast at the guard posts.

Washburn Tall

Washburn presents a tall, sharp-shooting five. Charlie Brehm and Harold Hauck are six foot, four inch forwards who starred in the initial fray with Omaha. Bill Yearsley holds down the center post and measures six foot six inches.

Niles Nelson and Ben Buttle are the playmaking guards for the SoDak five.

Creighton will be the toughest foe on the slate. Captain Elton Tuttle, the number one point-getter and rebounder, is the stand-out in the Jay line-up.

Big Bill Heyden returns to action the second semester and will use his bulk effectively around the basket.

South Omahans Ray Yost and Bob Komasinski are the other valuable Hilltoppers on the front line.

Mackie Leads

Back court mainstays are Eddie Cole and Bob Meyer, whose playmaking during the current campaign has been outstanding.

Bob Mackie is currently leading the Omaha attack with his unrelenting ability to score baskets. His point average already labels him high in the nation among small colleges.

Long range accuracy has placed Bob Moscrey in the spotlight with the keen eye of Bob Rose, gives the Indians a double barreled attack.

Veteran Don Claussen is the stabilizing force in the OU machine and his scoring pace places him second only to Mackie.

Shinrock Improved

Ever Improving Fred Shinrock, who got off to a slow start due to a broken toe, has proved to be the most versatile man on the floor. Coach Virgil Yelkin has been playing the lanky veteran at all five of the positions with pleasing results.

Lee Nelson has been showing the most steady improvement throughout the year. The ex-North High star is developing as a top defensive man as well as a sharpshooter on offense.

Injury ridden Ralph Pettit

should be ready for full time duty after being sidelined with a shoulder bruise and the flu.

Dump Emporia

By Bob Peck

Sparked by the sharpshooting of Bob Mackie and the rebounding power of Don Claussen, Omaha University drubbed Kansas State Teachers of Emporia, 72-57, Thursday night in the OU Fieldhouse.

The Indians had too much for the under-manned Hornets from Kansas, as the score widened when they couldn't keep up the fast pace.

The pressing tactics used by the Kansans payed off in the first quarter, as the Hornets rushed to a 15-10 lead, and appeared headed to hand the Indians their first loss on the home court.

Tight Defense

But the Omahans put up a tight web around the basket that the Hornets couldn't penetrate for the remainder of the game. In the second quarter, OU outscored their opponents 23-8.

The bulk of the first half scoring was carried by Mackie. The pint-sized guard meshed nine straight points in the second period to gain a 20-all deadlock.

Claussen turned in a stellar performance on the boards and also counted for 17 markers, one of his best efforts of the season.

At the half, Coach Virgil Yelkin's crew owned a comfortable 33-23 margin, and coasted the rest of the way.

Moscrey Shines

One of the features of the game was the deadeye passing of Guard Bob Moscrey. The "Cat" repeatedly set up his playmates with fine passes.

Early in the second half, Yelkin substituted a new team for his regulars. The five consisted of Don Fitch, Dick Davis, Don Hansen, Larry Johnson and Tom Mosiman.

This combination held the Hornets to four buckets, but couldn't muster much of an offense. Hansen got the only field goal of the five.

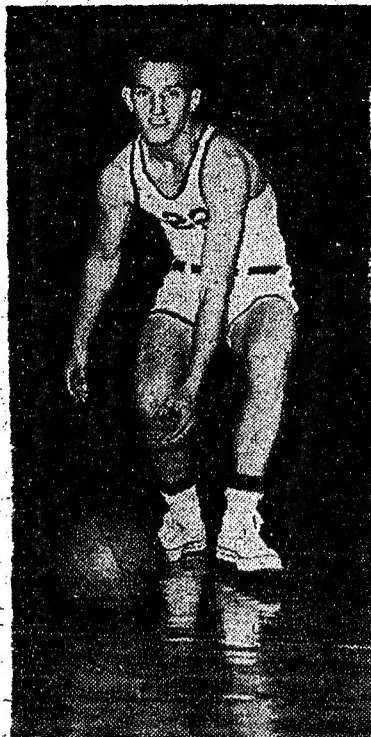

Lee Nelson turned in a steady performance, notching 15 counters and only committing one foul. This was an accomplishment for Nelson, as he fouled out of the last two games.

Rose Smooth

Bob Rose turned in his usual smooth performance, playing a flawless floor game and proving a demon on defense. To this he added eight points for the OU cause.

Milford Trade School, regularly scheduled to meet the OU "B" team, couldn't make it because of weather conditions.

Instead, Ray Damato and his Fraternity All-Stars, took the floor against the Mudramen. Coached by Burt "Phog" McMillan, this crew didn't provide much opposition although it did provide a lot of entertainment for all of the dozen spectators.

Bob Mackie

Mackie Tosses 169 Points

Peppery Bob Mackie continues to be the scoring leader of Coach Virgil Yelkin's basketball team. The high scoring guard has tossed in 169 points for the lead in that department. This gives him a 16.9 point-per-game average which is also tops.

Center Don Claussen is second among the scorers in both total score and average score per game. The big center has netted 124 counters so far this season which gives him a 12.4 average per game.

Bob Rose and Lee Nelson are battling it out for the number three position. Nelson is currently leading the fight with 94 points to 81 for Rose. Nelson's average is 9.4 per game, while Rose's is 9.1.

Sharpshooting Bob Moscrey is the leader in the free throw department with an even 80 per cent average. He has dunked 18 out of 20 attempts.

Mackie also holds the single game scoring record for the season with 23 points. He accomplished this twice, once against Morningside, and again against Simpson.

The Mighty Might also has scored 55 field goals so far this season, 16 more than runner-up Claussen.

Nelson leads the parade in percentage of field goals scored. He has hit 38 out of 83 attempts for a 44.2 average. Nelson has appeared in 10 games.

The high team score so far this season was piled up against Simpson, when the Indians totaled 76 points.

The lowest team score accounted for by the opponents was the 40 counters made by Peru in their 40-45 loss to the Indians.

The Omaha squad is averaging 65 points per game with the opponents averaging 59.7.

ISA Strengthens Hold On Valley Leadership

The ISA keggers proved to be too much for the Phi Ep's Thursday. The league leaders swept all three games, and strengthened their hold on first place.

Turner Tefft again was the big gun for the Independents, with a total series of 501.

Lambda Chi posted a team series of 636 for a mural record this year, but PKA still managed to take two out of three games.

The Theta Chi bowlers hit their peak against the ROTC. They rolled to three straight victories. Art Bodette of the ROTC had high series of the day with a 503, but Don Digilio posted the highest single game at 189.

The history of the past will do you no good if you don't know anything about it.

Don Claussen

Blackhawks Edge Lambda Chi, 33-32

Nick Adzick led the Blackhawks to a thrilling 33 to 32 victory over Lambda Chi Wednesday in mural basketball.

The teams saw-sawed back and forth, Adzick leading the Blackhawks and Jerry O'Donnell leading Lambda Chi. Adzick ended up with 12 points, and O'Donnell's 18 proved futile.

ROTC rolled to its second straight victory, coasting by the Sioux, 49 to 23. And for the second straight time Bernie Lainsen was the big gun in the ROTC attack. Bernie potted 18 points, and dominated the backboards.

Also for the second straight time, Theta Chi was handed an easy victory. Phi Epsilon Pi forfeited, and Theta Chi remained in a tie for first place.

Lambda Chi proved to be no match for the Sig Ep B team, as they crumbled before the SPE five by a 57 to 14 margin. Bob Peck and Roger Dunbler sparked the winners, potting 16 points apiece. Dick Kimball made eight of the Lambda Chi's 14 points.

On Jan. 19, PKA will play Otoes, ISA will meet Pawnees, and on the following day, the Independents will play the Phi Ep's. Theta Chi will also meet the Pawnees on Jan. 20.

League play will be over with by Jan. 20, after which time the teams will go into a playoff.

Yelkin Schedules Diamond Sessions

The present weather, and the fine basketball that is being played by the OU cagers have probably erased all thoughts of baseball on the Omaha campus.

But Coach Virgil Yelkin, who is always thinking of the future, already has put some small plans into action.

Coach Yelkin has scheduled a practice schedule for all lettermen to probably begin in the second week of February. Official practice will start around Mar. 1.

The toughest job on any ball

National Statistics Give OU Cagers Edge Over K State

By Burt McMillan

Would you take the bet if somebody offered you Kansas State (of Manhattan) and 150 points against Omaha U. in a basketball game? My guess is you might take the bet . . .

This is not so out of line when you hear the results of the latest independent survey on basketball ratings. It can be proved, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that Omaha U. is 154 points better than Jack Gardner's team from Manhattan—by comparative scores.

Kansas State has been beaten once soundly (before last Saturday's upset) by Michigan State, 80 to 63. Michigan State, on the other hand, was pressed to beat Northwestern, 62 to 57. This, of course, means that Northwestern is comparatively 12 points better than Kansas State.

However, Illinois beat Northwestern, 83 to 58, making Illinois 37 points better than K-State. Minnesota's 77 to 73 win over the Illini makes the Gophers 41 points better than Kansas State. But Marquette beat Minnesota, 70 to 59, putting Marquette on top of the heap with a 52 point bulge.

Still With Us?

Wisconsin picked up a 73 point margin by beating Marquette, 76 to 55, and Purdue beat the Badgers, 65 to 57. So, naturally, Purdue is 61 points superior to Kansas State. Then Michigan dumped Purdue, but lost to Ohio State, which in turn lost to Butler. Thus, Butler became 132 points better than K-State. It should be mentioned that Ohio State's win over Michigan was by 30 points.

Here, St. Joseph of Indiana enters the picture, beating Butler, 72 to 57, but losing to Loras, 71 to 70. Loras is therefore 148 points above the Wildcats of K-State.

Loras, however, lost to Iowa Teachers, which in turn lost to Grinnell, 69 to 66. Grinnell is thus on top, with a 162-point span over K-State's Wildcats. Iowa Central made its move by coming within 17 points of Grinnell, and therefore becoming 145 points better than the Wildcats.

Nothing to It

Omaha U., as you know, easily beat Iowa Central, 54 to 45, to definitely install themselves as 154 points better than Kansas State. And to think that Kansas State before the last defeat is rated the top team in the nation in several supposedly accurate polls.

But, that is not the end. Iowa Central only beat Dana by 63 to 45, and Dana was pressed before beating Luther, 74 to 49. Comparatively, then, Luther is 102 points better than the nation's "number one team."

It is a well-known fact that Omaha U.'s Papoose team beat Luther by 58 to 40. Isn't it reasonable to assume that the OU Papooses are 120 points above the Wildcats?

Perhaps the climax to this expose should be that famous quotation from Rudyard Kipling: "And ne'er the twain shall meet." If they did, there might be an upset.

team, is getting the batteries into shape. Big Bob Offerjost, Bill Duffack, and Jerry Lawson are lettermen back for another year of mound duty. Along with that trio, 11 other lettermen will return to the diamond.

An official schedule is being set up, and the first game of the season will probably be Apr. 1.

From the Sports Desk . . . A Poor Move

By Frank Schuchart

Last week the official rules committee of the NCAA passed a new rule regarding substitutions in college football. The rule, which will go into effect during the 1953 season, abolishes the old free-substitution method and effects a rigid regulation on substituting.

Under the new plan a man leaving the game in the first or third quarters cannot return to action until the second or fourth period, as the case may be. If a player leaves the field during the second or fourth stanzas, he cannot return until the last four minutes of play in the half.

This new rule has caused a large amount of furor throughout the country. Many officials and coaches are bitterly against it. Actually, it is going to be a greater strain on those competing on the gridiron.

Under the old rule the players usually played on either offense or defense, thereby gaining a rest when his platoon was out of action. Now, teams will have to be well stocked with 60 minute men, which are hard to find.

It seems foolish that the NCAA should pass a rule of this type which obviously will be harder on players and could cause more injuries than are already suffered during the grid season.
